Public Charities and Foundations Benefit Tennessee Communities

Give hope to the people they serve

 The Second Harvest Food Bank of Middle Tennessee is one of the largest food banks in the country. During the 2017-18 fiscal year, Second Harvest distributed more than 31 million pounds of food to more than 460 Partner Agencies, providing more than 28 million meals to hungry children, families, and seniors throughout our 46county service area.

Deliver vital community services

• Catholic Charities, Diocese of Nashville helps more than 11,000 people each year— ranging from feeding the hungry to refugee and immigration services.

Economic Impact of Tennessee Nonprofit Sector

- Employs 199,487 8.1% of the state's workforce
- Generates over $31.6 billion in annual revenues
- Holds assets of almost $71.4 billion
- Tennessee foundations annually give over $672.7 million
- Tennesseans give almost $3.8 billion to charity each year, representing 4.63 percent of household income

Contribute to life-saving treatments

 ALSAC is the fundraising organization for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. Unlike most hospitals, St. Jude receives the majority of its funding from the public through donations so families never receive a bill. Treatments invented at St. Jude have helped push the overall childhood cancer survival rate from 20 percent to more than 80 percent since it opened more than 50 years ago.

Advance solutions for challenges facing society

 The NASBA Center for the Public Trust (CPT) addresses the issue of ethics and ethical behavior in business, education, public policy and society, while promoting a positive perspective on activities within the business and accounting communities. Note: The "nonprofit sector" encompasses organizations that are defined as tax-exempt under section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code. This includes both public charities and private foundations [501(c)(3)] and other nonprofits such as civic league organizations [501(c)(4)]. Exceptions are noted when relevant.
